Perspective plans of the college

1. Greenery around the college

The college wanted to create more sustainable and pleasant environment for the students, faculties, and visitors. Green spaces can improve air quality, reduce stress, and provide opportunities for outdoor learning and relaxing. They also contribute to the aesthetic appeal of the campus.

2. E-library

E-library in a college is a cost-effective educational resource which provide students and faculties with easy access to a wide range of digital resources, such as e-books, journals, research papers, and multimedia content. The college wanted to start e-library to promote self-directed learning, research, and academic exploration.

3. More focus on placement

The college wanted to focus more on placement so that the students receive necessary support and resources to secure suitable job opportunities after graduation. By offering career guidance, networking opportunities, skill development, and connections to potential employers, the college aims to enhance students' employability and help them transition successfully into the workforce.

4. Add on courses

The college wanted to start add on courses to enhance students' skills set, provides specialized knowledge in a particular field, improving employability and complementing their main course of study. These courses offer an opportunity to explore diverse subjects and gain a competitive edge in the job market.

5. Certification courses

The College wanted to start certification courses with an aim to provide students with specific skills, knowledge, and credentials related to a particular field or industry.

6. Additional courses

With the introduction of additional courses, the college would like to diversify their academic portfolio, and aimed to attract a broader range of students with varying interest and career goals. The college wanted to enrich the campus culture by bringing together students from various backgrounds and interests.
